ADVISORY GROUP

29 Delaware Code Annotated §8611 establishes the Council on Libraries which is to advise the Department of Community Affairs and Economic Development on matters relating to libraries and library standards. Total membership on the Council is 13. Each of the three County governments elects two members annually who serve at the pleasure of the County. The Governor appoints the other seven. There is no statutory definition as to whom shall serve but the Governor does appoint citizens to represent the groups of users required by the Library Services and Construction Act.

MAJOR FUNCTIONAL CATEGORIES

The functions of the State Library Agency are divided into five areas - Special Services (for the Handicapped), Kent Bookmobile Operations, Modular Library Operation, Central Reference and Resource Services, and State Library Development.

The Special Services Unit provides specialized materials for the handicapped through the regional library in Dover established by the Library of Congress in 1971 to meet the particular needs of the visually impaired and physically handicapped. A full program of talking books, cassettes, large print, and mechanical aids is available from this unit.

Kent Bookmobile Operations are a contractual service provided by the State Library Agency to Kent County which does not yet have a county library system. State personnel staff the vehicle and provide supervision. The book stock is primarily a rental collection supplemented with books from the State Library Agency. The Service area is rural Kent County.

Harrington Modular Library Operation provides this community in southern Kent County with a 12' x 40' modular library unit stocked with 5,000 volumes, 40 periodicals, and trained staff. The full range of library services including programs, reference, etc., are all available. After a two year demonstration period (to be concluded July 28, 1980) the unit and the operational costs become the responsibility of the community.

Reference and Resource Services include a bevy of functions: governmental library services, interlibrary loans, statewide delivery system, Delaware Film Cooperative (16mm and super 8mm films), and Art Loan Collection featuring original works by Delaware artists, telephone reference service, (PDQ) Books-by-Mail for the lower two counties, and a 90,000+ volume resource collection used for interlibrary loan are all administered by this unit.

Statewide Library Development includes continuing education programs for librarians, workshops for public librarians, a Division of Libraries newsletter, public relations services for all the State's libraries, administration of LSCA programs, working with the State legislature for improved library funding and with county library advisory boards as well as the Council on Libraries, and preparation of state and federal financial plans. These services are aimed at the State's total population.

DIVISION OF LIBRARIES
ANNUAL REPORT

The most significant library event of the decade was the White House Conference on Library and Information Services which six Delaware delegates attended in November 1979 and reported back to the people of Delaware at a public meeting in Dover on December 6. Prior to this national library meeting, Governor du Pont appointed a 13 member Task Force on Library Cooperation to study and suggest ways of implementing increased sharing of library materials and personnel and technology among all the State's libraries.

Increased accessibility to library materials and services for all Delaware residents is a perennial objective. The Division initiated a books-by-mail service (paperback books available for free loan with all postal charges paid) for Kent and Sussex communities without public library facilities and for homebound and institutionalized residents; and the PDQ (phone Difficult Questions) Library Line which provides statewide toll-free telephone reference service.

A much larger world became accessible to blind readers when the Division obtained the Kurzweil Reading Machine which transforms printed materials in English into the spoken word. A grant from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare made this possible. More than 35 volunteers for the Delaware Association for the Blind have cooperated with the Division to provide taped materials of local interest to all Delawareans - the digests of the State's two daily newspapers are particularly appreciated. Special Services coordinators continue to identify unserved citizens and enroll them for talking book services.

The second annual Statewide Summer Reading Program involved more than 1,000 children who read 15,920 books. Special programs of poetry writing, clowning, magic and puppetry were provided at library sites for 3,800 children throughout the State.

Personnel from Delaware's libraries attended the Division of Libraries sponsored continuing education programs on State documents, legal reference materials, the Delaware Code, computerized cataloging classification operations, Friends groups and Assertiveness Training.

The Division provides promotional assistance to the State's libraries; and, in this connection, during National Library Week the Division distributed a brochure on library services, "A-Z", to more than 25,000 students and the general public. The Division's newsletter, "The Blue Hen's Chicken Scratch", won Honorable Mention in national competition. The Division has further promoted library services by participating in mall exhibits, professional meetings, senior citizen fairs and the Delaware Agriculture Museum.

All of the Division's programs showed expanded use during the fiscal year:

July 31, 1980

The Honorable Pierre S. du Pont
Governor
State of Delaware
Legislative Hall
Dover, Delaware 19901

Dear Governor du Pont:

The State Library Advisory Council was actively involved throughout the year in fulfilling those responsibilities with which it is charged by the Library Services and Construction Act, as amended, P.L. 84-597, and the Delaware Code. Members of the Council personally evaluated public library projects funded by LSCA grants and suggested revisions in the State's Annual Program. In addition, they studied LSCA Title I and III proposals for grants and made recommendations as to which should be funded during the year.

New members appointed in FY'80 were Patricia Chalfant (academic libraries representative), Carmen Nelson (New Castle County appointee) and Rosali Meinersmann (Sussex County appointee). The Council is still not at full strength, but those who are members are interested, concerned, and hard-working.

To increase their knowledge of library concerns Council members attended the Middle Atlantic Regional Library Federation Conference, Division of Libraries' continuing education programs, the "Report to the People" at which Delaware's delegates to the White House Conference spoke, the Delaware Library Association's meetings, varied programs at public libraries, and toured a sampling of Sussex County's public libraries and a correctional facility library.

The Division of Libraries had a busy and productive year during FY'80 with the State Library Advisory Council performing its function of providing counsel and advice to the state library agency.

I am pleased, as I relinquish the Chair of the State Library Advisory Council, to look back at two years of solid achievement and growth for Delaware's libraries and the Council itself.

Respectfully submitted,

Jacqueline Bamberger

STATE LIBRARY AGENCY STATISTICS

INTRODUCTION

DIVISION OF LIBRARIES

The adult collections, fiction and nonfiction, were weeded systematically during the yar as new acquisitions replaced older materials. These collections were inventoried during the year.

It having been more than a decade since the juvenile collections had been weeded, the quantity of dated and no longer useful items crowding the shelves was considerable. These collections now are much more viable.

During the year the Division discontinued its status as a government depository library and relinquished its collection of Federal government documents. Of primary consideration in this decision was that the Delaware State College library across the street has a much larger government documents collection, open to the public, and that the depository collections maintained by the Wilmington Institute Library and the University of Delaware libraries are accessible by the public and through interlibrary loan.

REQUESTS FOR DELAWARE RAPID INTERLIBRARY LOANS

The Division of Libraries filled 18% of the total number of requests, the Wilmington Institute Library 55%, the University of Delaware 4.7%. If the New Castle County requests were omitted from consideration for the Division and the University, their fill rates would rise to about 25% and about 7%, respectively.

There is an omission in the New Castle County tabulation: the Wilmington Institute Library forwarded to the University of Delaware requests which Wilmington was unable to fill but, because of a breakdown in reporting procedures, information as to the disposition of these New Castle County requests is lacking. Extrapolating from the statistical data for the other two counties and the libraries tabulated separately, for which the University filled about 27.4% of the requests referred to it (586 of 2139), then it may be estimated that the University filled 315 (27.4%) of the 1149 unfilled requests, which would change the New Castle County filled percentage from 68.5 to 77.1, and the grand total fill rate from 77.7% to 80.4%.

DELAWARE FILMS COOPERATIVE

The tabulation indicates that the Wilmington Institute Library circulated directly the preponderance of films, 72.5%, followed by 14 libraries in Sussex County with 11%, 5 libraries in Kent County with 9.5%, and 11 libraries in New Castle County with 7% of the total film circulation.

The summer months, in this case June-September, show a real decline in circulation, and this may be attributable to the schools being out of session. (Although films are circulated only to individual borrowers, it is supposed that a number of borrowers are teachers who borrow for class use.) This is particularly striking in New Castle County.

PDQ (PHONE DIFFICULT QUESTIONS)

This statewide telephone service was initiated in mid-January. It is available, toll-free, from 2:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m., seven days a week. It is operated from the reference area of the Wilmington Institute Library, and in addition to quick answers it provides information to callers about their own local public libraries for extended research. A number of the calls were from smaller public libraries with limited reference collections.

Monday is a busy day, followed by the three busiest days, the midweek work days, tapering off on Friday and dropping somewhat on weekends. From the hourly/monthly tabulations, the hours during the business day, 2:00-5:00, are by far the busiest, followed by the dinner/early evening period, 5:00-8:00, when school students and other individuals are at home after the day.

BOOKS-BY-MAIL

A mailing announcing and explaining the Books-By-Mail program, with a postpaid return postcard was sent in late January to all rural box holders in Kent and Sussex Counties. During February the printed, illustrated and annotated catalog of 485 titles was mailed to each person who had responded, and records for prospective individual borrowers were set up. Included in each catalog was a postpaid order form for the reader's first selections.

Books were mailed out in sturdy canvas bags, postpaid and with a return postpaid mailing label.

As a result of analyzing the requests during the first months of this program, additional paperbacks were bought (heavily in juvenile titles, from picture books to junior high leve, and in romance titles) and the first supplement of 384 titles was mailed to all borrowers in June.

Readers from rural areas around more than 30 communities borrowed books each month, about evenly divided between the two counties.

However, the number of borrowers and the number of books circulated was dramatically different between the two counties: Kent County had two-and-a-half times the number of borrowers and also of books borrowed as Sussex County although the difference in population between the two counties is less than 4% (93,700 in Kent County, 96,691 in Sussex County), and even this difference in population is weighted toward Sussex County.

This may be attributed to there being 14 public libraries in Sussex County and only three public libraries in Kent County, resulting in a large number of Kent Countians with no public library service (other than the bookmobile).

Kent County Bookmobile Circulation Statistics

The holiday month of December is the only month in which circulation fell below 3450 volumes and below an average of 30 volumes per stop. The summer months of June and July showed the highest per stop averages (36 and 35) and the three summer months of June-August the highest number of volumes circulated per month (over 4100).

Adult and juvenile circulation is about evenly divided, 23,428 and 21,806, respectively. However, for both groups the circulation of fiction is almost four to one that of non-fiction (35,970 to 9,264).

PLACE IN STATE GOVERNMENT ORGANIZATION

The Delaware Division of Libraries is one of the divisions which make up the Department of Community Affairs and Economic Development headed by a Cabinet Secretary. The Division is established by law (29 Delaware Code Annotated §8603) which directs the Secretary to appoint a State Librarian to head the Division.

POWERS AND DUTIES OF STATE LIBRARY AGENCY

29 Delaware Code Annotated §8610 enumerates the duties of the Department relating to library services: to provide library services to governmental units, to maintain a documents collection, to receive and administer funds, to promote cooperation among all types of libraries, to provide resources to supplement local libraries, to recommend appropriate legislation, to publicize library services, and "all other activities pertinent to the organizational function of library services".

ADVISORY GROUP

29 Delaware Code Annotated §8611 establishes the Council on Libraries which is to advise the Department of Community Affairs on matters relating to libraries and library standards. Total membership on the Council is 13. Each of the three County governments elects two members annually who serve at the pleasure of the County. The Governor appoints the other seven. There is no statutory definition as to whom shall serve but the Governor does appoint citizens to represent the groups of users required by the Library Services and Construction Act.

MAJOR FUNCTIONAL CATEGORIES

The functions of the State Library Agency are divided into four areas- Special Services (for the Handicapped), Kent Bookmobile Operations, Central Reference and Resource Services, and State Library Development.

The Special Services Unit provides specialized materials for the handicapped through the regional library in Dover established by the Library of Congress in 1971 to meet the particular needs of the visually impaired and physically handicapped. A full program of talking books, cassettes, large print, and mechanical aids is available from this unit.

Kent Bookmobile Operations are a contractual service provided by the State Library Agency to Kent County which does not yet have a county library system. State personnel staff the vehicle and provide supervision. The book stock is primarily a rental collection supplemented with books from the State Library Agency. The Service area is rural Kent County.

DIVISION OF LIBRARIES

Major advances in all types of library services were accomplished during a year of much activity and change.

A variety of media was used to inform the public of library services; i.e. quarterly newsletters, bookmarks, bibliographies, posters, special programs and exhibits and the State Funmobile.

Books By Mail, the postage-free "library in your mailbox", has grown steadily in usage, serving approximately 3,500 families in the Kent and Sussex County area and circulating more than 15,000 books. By year end, the service was expanded to include New Castle County.

,000 Delaware children visited their local public libraries o participate in the Division's sponsored and funded summer pro rams. 1,700 participated in the Annual Summer Reading Program and all who read 10 or more books were awarded tee shirt transfers "Reading Takes You Out of This World". In New Castle County, a special experience was offered in the Poet-in-the Library Program. Under the direction of published poetess, Molly Peacock, youngsters aged 8 to 12 wrote poetry for inclusion along with their vivid illustrations in a published anthology. In Kent County, the Summer Puppetry Caravan of Appalachia provided workshops and performances and other programs were presented in conjunction with Parks and Recreation summer sites. In Sussex County, the public libraries were the scene for clowning, makeup demonstrations and magic tricks and 185 graduates of the mini-course on clowning gave performances before friends, parents and library staff.

Curious and questioning Delawareans continued to call PDQ, the toll free telephone reference service, with a variety of inquiries, on the average of 600 per month. Additional publicity kept usage relatively even through the traditionally slow holiday and summer seasons.

Automation arrived in Delaware's public libraries with five institutions joining the Division in OCLC/Palinet membership. Using their computer terminals, member libraries utilize cataloging information, card production and interlibrary loan systems.

With Division assistance and $40,000 from the National Endowment of the Humanities Challenge Grant, Frankford now has a new and exciting public library. The First National Bank of Frankford was renovated to house a collection capable of making the library an educational and cultural center for the community.

A number of in-service training courses for library personnel have been offered each year. This year, six public library staff members earned the 20 credits required for certification. More than 50 other library staff members are working toward certification.

The Governor's Task Force to Promote Library Cooperation sponsored five conferences to bring personnel from all types of libraries together to discuss and plan how resource sharing and cooperation would benefit all. The school library and public library seminar resulted in new ways of working together. The end result of the Task Force's efforts was the initiation of planning for countywide library networks to facilitate sharing. Still in the early stages, this new development in Delaware's libraries has the potential for even greater public accessibility to library resources and a substantial reduction in the numbers of citizens inadequately served by libraries.

July 6, 1981

The Honorable Pierre S. du Pont, IV
Governor
State of Delaware
Legislative Hall
Dover, DE 19901

Dear Governor du Pont:

The State Library Advisory Council was actively involved during the year in fulfilling those responsibilities with which it is charged by the Library Services and Construction Act and the Delaware Code.

Library Services and Construction Act applications from each county were studied by the Council and recommendations made as to funding. Among those funded were the Central Delaware Consortium, the New Castle County Outreach Program, and the Seaford-Laurel proposal for a shared children's librarian.

In compliance with Library Services and Construction Act, Title III, changes in DRILL operations were put into effect by the Division of Libraries; however, because of concerns voiced by the New Castle County and the University of Delaware a letter was sent with Council's approval to the Department of Education, Office of General Counsel seeking an interpretation of Title III funding.

At the request of several librarians a written plan for a wording certification for trained library personnel was developed and approved by the Council.

New members appointed to the Advisory Council were: Ruth Williams, Kent County appointee; Lorraine Wendland and Grace Husted of New Castle County were both Governor's appointees.

Respectfully submitted,

Ann Outten
Chairperson, State Library
Advisory Council
